TROOPS ARE READY TO INVADE ULSTER CRISIS IS REACHED

RUMORS OF PLAN TO SEND MILITARY BRING PREDICTIONS OF BLOODSHED.

SIR CARSON IS AT BELFAST

Leader of Unionists Given Great Demonstration On Arrival.

(By Associated Press)
Belfast, March 20—The garrisons at Newry and Londonderry have been reinforced by the arrival of two warships which arrived today.

(Associated Press)
Belfast, March 20—Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Unionists of Ulster, made a dramatic entry of the capital today. His purpose of coming is to consult the other leaders and commanders of the Ulster volunteer forces. The crowd cheered and fired revolvers as Carson came down the gang plank.

Great activity was displayed at the Unionist headquarters and the army barracks and great excitement was caused among the people of Belfast, who momentarily expect a decisive movement on the part of the Unionist chiefs of the government.

Belfast, March 20—An emergency force of picked men from the Ulster volunteers was hastily summoned to headquarters. The motive for the sudden call has been kept secret, but rumors persist of military action on the part of the government and projected arrests.

Crisis Believed Reached.
London, March 20—Grave events are impending in Ulster, according to unionist newspapers, and a rumor is current that the government is preparing for the military occupation of the province. There are various indications that a crisis has been reached. A vote of censure on the British government, which was moved in the house of commons by Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, was rejected, 345 to 252. Arthur J. Balfour, summoned by Bonar Law, made a hurried return from the Riviera and arrived in London in time to participate in the division.

There were reports also of the threatened arrest of Sir Edward Carson and other leaders of the Ulster unionists, but it was officially declared that there was no truth in the statement that warrants had been signed for such arrests. Sir Edward Carson, however, made a hasty exit from the house before the debate was concluded to catch a train for Belfast.

Report Grave Developments.
Austin Chamberlain declared that Sir Edward had been called away in response to sudden developments in Ireland. Other unionists asserted that the Ulstermen can no longer be restrained from an outbreak and that Sir Edward's mission is to endeavor to hold them in check.

The Daily Telegraph's Lobbyist says:
"Unless all omens are false, blood will be spilt in Ulster before the house of commons sees Sir Edward Carson again."

The marquis of Londonderry and other prominent Ulsterites are on their way to Belfast, and their action is regarded as a challenge to the government, as asserted, any intention exists to issue warrants for their arrest.

Asquith Refuses Details.
Andrew Bonar Law's effort to obtain a vote of censure on the government was based on Premier Asquith's refusal Monday to give details of the scheme of local option by which the nine counties of Ulster would be permitted to vote separately on the question of the new Irish government.

The leader of the opposition offered to give a guarantee that if the government would take a referendum of the United Kingdom on the home rule bill and local option proposal, the unionists, both in the house of lords and in the house of commons, would place no impediment in the way of carrying out the will of the people.

Sir Edward Carson, Ulster unionist leader, backed up Mr. Law's offer by saying that if the premier was prepared to give him a definite offer of a referendum he would accept that decision.

He Is Passed.
Before Sir Edward Carson made his departure for Ulster he engaged in a lively debate, during which the lie was passed with Joseph Devlin, nationalist member for Belfast. The Ulster leader called Mr. Devlin a liar when the nationalist member declared Sir Edward at one time had been a home ruler.

"It is an infamous lie," roared Sir Edward Carson, and when the speaker suggested a modification of his language, sir Edward substituted for it. "The statement is a willful falsehood."

Shouts of protest and cheers in support of both members filled the chamber and it was some minutes before the speaker was able to make himself heard in an appeal for the avoidance of personalities.

Mr. Law's proposition that a referendum of the country should be taken on the home rule bill and the local option proposal for Ulster was rejected by Premier Asquith, who said he believed the government's proposal offered the only hope of lasting settlement.

FEDERAL LEAGUE IN LEGAL BATTLE TODAY

STARTS FIGHT AGAINST ORGANIZE BASEBALL IN U. S. COURTS.

INJUNCTION AGAINST KILLIFER

Legality of Reserve Clause is Attacked in the Complaint Filed.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Mch. 20—The first legal shot of the baseball war of 1914 was fired here today at which time the Chicago Federal league club filed a petition with the U. S. district court asking for an injunction to restrain Wm. J. Killifer, Jr., formerly of the Philadelphia Nationals, from playing baseball with any other club than the Chicago Federals.

Killifer signed a three years contract with the Chicago Federals but was afterward persuaded that the reserve clause in his old Philadelphia contract held him legally to that city and he joined his former team. The suit involves the legality of the reserve clause, long regarded as one of the bulwarks of organized baseball.

The complaint states that Killifer signed a contract for three years for which he was to receive $5,833.33 a year and that he received $500 in advance. The case will be heard April 3rd.

BODY OF W. W. GIVEN BELIEVED TO BE IN THE RIVER AT DIXON

DEKALB MOTHER AND BROTHER OF MAN WHO DISAPPEARED HERE TODAY SEARCHING FOR HIM.

SAID TO BE OF UNSOUND MIND

$100 Reward Offered by Mother for Finding of Son, Who Disappeared Jan. 3rd and Thought to Come to Dixon.

One hundred dollars reward is offered by Mrs. Fannie Given for the recovery of the body of her son, Warren W. Given, if dead, or the location of his whereabouts, if alive. Mrs. Given believes her boy has drowned himself in Rock River at Dixon during a fit of insanity.

The description of Warren Given, as he left home Saturday, Jan. 3, is as follows:

Five feet, 6 inches tall, of medium weight, brown hair, smooth face. Wore checked gray suit, black fur overcoat and light colored cloth cap.

Mrs. Fannie Given, of 129 Harrison street, DeKalb, and her son, Sanford Given, visited Dixon this afternoon on a sad mission. They are searching for trace of Warren W. Given, a son of Mrs. Given, who disappeared from his home in DeKalb on Saturday, January 3, and is believed to have come to Dixon. He has not been seen by any of his relatives in DeKalb and they have come to the conclusion that the young man, who was about 37 years of age and unmarried, has committed suicide by drowning himself in Rock river in Dixon.

Mental derangement was given by the DeKalb people in their interview with the Telegraph reporter today. They said that Warren Given had at one time been committed to the asylum for the insane at Elgin, where he remained for a year. His mother was allowed to bring him home in 1910 but the physicians were not certain then that he was completely cured and Mrs. Given states that recently he has been showing unmistakable signs of further mental trouble.

Business in Dixon.

The missing man has been dealing with a Dixon real estate man and a possible misunderstanding over the deal is believed by Mrs. Given to have been the cause of her son coming to Dixon on the night of Saturday, January 3 last. No one in this city has yet been found who has seen the man but it is hoped by the anxious mother and brother that an offer of reward of suitable size may have the result of discovering his whereabouts or recovering the body if he is dead.

Had Little Money.

At the time he left home Warren Given had only a little change in his pockets. Two or three dollars perhaps, and not much more than sufficient to bring him to Dixon, but too little to make robbery and foul play a possible solution of the mystery. It was known that he was worried regarding business deals, however, and this, coupled with his unbalanced mental condition, makes the suicide theory quite probable.

The Dixon police have been notified of the matter but have not as yet unearthed a clew to the unfortunate man's whereabouts. It is said that he owed money on notes, given in exchange in land deals.

Offer a Reward.

The heart-broken mother today authorized the Telegraph to state she would pay a reward of $100 to anyone who will find her boy, if he is alive or will produce the body if he is dead. Anyone who may have any information on the subject may notify the Telegraph or the mother at the above stated address in DeKalb. If no information regarding Mr. Given is received soon, the relatives propose to have Rock river dragged for a considerable distance both ways from the city. Sterling, Prophetstown, Erie and Rock Island papers please copy.

MANY VISITORS HERE.

That Sterling young people enjoy coming to a live town occasionally was demonstrated Tuesday night when 57 tickets were sold for Sterling at the local Northwestern depot. This number of course does not include the many people who returned to that city on the inter-urban.

DAIRY

IMPORTANCE OF CLEANLINESS

To Prevent Disease Cows Should Be Carefully Brushed and Cleaned at Least Twice Every Week.

In the prevention of disease too much stress cannot be placed upon the importance of cleanliness. For this reason the cows should be brushed and cleaned at least twice a week, particularly on those parts that are beyond the reach of the tongue. Whatever benefit may come from the cow licking herself when she is clean, there is more or less danger from that source when the cows are kept inside, and have no way of cleaning their bodies except with their tongues when turned out for water and exercise.

At certain times during the year and at certain stages of condition and health the hair comes off in great abundance. At such times, when the animals lick themselves, much of the hair gets into their stomachs and there is danger of its forming a hard mass that will severely injure them. This danger is minimized by brushing the cows carefully. It should be done daily while the cows are shedding their coats, for at this time there is more or less irritation of the skin that prompts the animals to lick their bodies more persistently than at other times. By brushing them in a careful manner this irritation is lessened and the falling hair is removed beyond the reach of their tongues.

CONTROL RICHNESS IN CREAM

Separator is Most Important Factor, but When Adjusted Properly There Will Be Variations.

The most important factor controlling the richness in cream is the cream screw in the separator, but even when that is adjusted properly there will be some variations in the percentage of fat in the cream. Ordinarily in winter and when cows are more nearly dry they are likely to give richer milk than when fresh and on June pasture. Accordingly, cream for the winter will at times show a variation of about seven per cent. over that produced during the summer months.

Not running a separator at uniform speed will also affect the cream, because the slower the separator bowl rotates it will affect the cream.

If too much skim milk or water is used in flushing out the bowl after each time the separator is used the cream will be thinner. Use no more than just necessary to free the bowl from cream.

Sometimes the skim milk or the cream becomes "choked," interfering with the free passage of either cream or the skim milk through their respective openings. These outlets should be examined frequently.

MILK STOOL IS CONVENIENT

Device Used on California Dairy Farm Straps Around Body and Is Ready for Instant Use.

A one-legged milk stool that is always in position for instant use is one of the conveniences employed on a California dairy farm, says the Popular Mechanics. This stool is provided with straps that fasten around the waist of the milker and hold the stool in the proper place. It requires no adjustment or attention of any kind, and is always ready as the milker moves from one cow to another.

Milk Stool That Is Proving Great Convenience on California Dairy Farm.

Cow's Capacity.

Every cow has a limit to the amount of butter fat she is capable of giving. It is true that often cows are poorly cared for and so poorly fed they fall below normal in percentage of butter fat. In such cases proper feeding, better care, and more comfortable quarters, with plenty of sunshine, good ventilation and warmth, will bring the cow up to normal.

Certified Milk.

About 125 dairies are engaged in producing certified milk and the daily production is nearly 25,000 gallons, an increase of 300 per cent. in five years. While this seems a remarkable increase, it should be remembered that only about one-half of one per cent. of the total milk supply of the country is certified.

WARSHIP SINKS VESSEL

Italian War Vessel Rams Passenger Launch—50 Drowned.

Captain of Pleasure Boat Misjudges Speed and Catastrophe Follows—Fifteen on Deck Saved.

Venice, March 20.—Fifty of the 65 passengers on a steam launch, most of whom were women and children, were drowned when a torpedo boat crashed into the pleasure vessel near Lido. The launch sank immediately. Although many Americans are visiting Venice at the present time, it is not believed any were aboard the steamer.

The people on the launch were coming to Venice from Lido, a chain of sandy islands separating the lagoon of Venice from the Adriatic, where a large number of excursionists had spent the holiday, St. Joseph's day.

The launch had hardly started when the torpedo boat was sighted coming at high speed toward the harbor. The captain of the launch apparently miscalculated the speed and distance and did not alter his course, with the result that the torpedo boat struck his vessel with terrific force.

The launch sank immediately in deep water, taking down all those in the cabin. The other 15 passengers, who were on the deck, were picked up from the sea.

Many boats from warships in the harbor, including one from the German cruiser Goeben, gondolas and other craft rushed to the point where the launch had gone down.

No rescues of those in the cabin were effected, although the Italian sailors dived many times. A score of bodies were recovered.

FIRE RAZES PLANT; 3 DIE

Houghton-Detroit Elevator Company's Building Burned.

Detroit, Mich., March 20.—Fire which destroyed the five-story building occupied by the Houghton-Detroit Elevator company is believed to have resulted in the death of three men. Four men were employed on the fourth floor. One escaped through a skylight. He was badly burned.

An unidentified body was taken from the building. The missing men are Walter Libby, John Law and Frank Todd.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 20.—The Windsor hotel and the Western Newspaper Union building, which housed the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin, one of the oldest newspapers in the state, were destroyed by fire, with a loss estimated at $350,000. Reports that ten guests of the hotel were missing were denied by the police who said that their investigation showed that no one was killed or hurt and that everyone registered in the hotel had been accounted for.

SENATOR JONES RETRACTS

President Wilson Takes Lawmaker to Task.

Washington, March 20.—President Wilson conferred with Senator Jones of Washington, informing the senator that there was absolutely no basis for conclusions he had referred to in a senate speech to the effect that the tolls repeal was the price to be paid as a result of negotiations with Great Britain for noninterference by foreign powers in Mexico and for England's defense of the Monroe doctrine. The president told the senator he "was skating on thin ice" in circulating such conclusions after reading them in some publication.

Senator Jones made a statement to the senate later, asserting that he had not intended to misrepresent anybody, that he had referred to the conclusions as he had read them in a newspaper, and that it was due the president that he express his flat denial of the matter.

CRIME OF THE GORILLA

By C. POEHLMAN.

We were all very fond of Senobia, not only because she was pretty, but because of her gentleness and kind heart.

Politeness and consideration are rare articles in a circus crowd, but Senobia, "the queen of tightrope walkers," as she was billed, had no reason to complain in this respect. Everybody treated her with the greatest politeness and respect, though she was the youngest and poorest paid of us all.

Strange it was, however, the one who showed her least respect was the smartest of the whole company. It was not because he thought himself so far above her, but because he loved her more than any of us did, passionately, and therefore selfishly. The rest of us could feel happy a whole day when Senobia had spoken a few kind words to us, but he, Stavarta, "champion juggler of the world," would not even have been satisfied had she given him her whole soul.

We were in Pittsburgh. The circus was crowded with people, and everybody was anxiously watching for the appearance of Senobia.

When we arrived in town, the director of the circus, greatly to his annoyance, had discovered that it was impossible to fix Senobia's rope properly with the safety curtain underneath.

Then came the fatal night. As usual, I was standing underneath watching her every movement. She was just ready to walk across the rope the third time, carrying a Japanese parasol, when I suddenly discovered that the rope was sagging and that Senobia walked backwards to the place from where she had started.

At this moment the audience shuddered. I looked up, the rope had begun to swing violently. It was not Senobia who did this—she had all she could do to keep her balance. It was caused by something at the other end of the rope, and true enough, there on the other platform sat "Goble," the big gorilla, crouching and shaking the rope with its big powerful fists.

As fast as my legs could carry me I ran to the nearest door leading to the gallery. To get to this I had to pass by the monkey cage, and here I stopped, believing for a moment that I must have gone mad, for in the cage, which was strongly bolted, sat the big gorilla. And still I had seen it only a few seconds before at the other end of the building.

I rushed towards the stairs leading to the gallery and suddenly I heard somebody coming down in mad haste. A suspicion entered my mind. I hid myself quickly and watched. A moment later a figure in red tights ran past my hiding place towards the gorilla's cage. It was Stavarta.

"You miserable beast!" he roared at the ape. "I wish I could kill you!" He ran away from the cage, looked about cautiously and disappeared. A moment later a number of people came running towards the cage, pale and excited.

"What a hero Stavarta is," cried the ringmaster. "But for his courage and presence of mind the mad beast might have attacked the audience." "Stavarta!" I blurted out. "What did he do?"

"He says he was standing in the gallery waiting for his turn when he heard the cries from the audience. At the same moments he saw Senobia falling and caught a glimpse of the gorilla. Without thinking of his own peril he made a rush for the beast, but it was too quick for him. It ran back into its cage and he bolted the door behind it."

"Stavarta is a liar," I said. At the same moment he struck me a violent blow in the face with his fist.

"How dare you call me a liar, you cowardly cur!" he cried. "You have always been jealous because she loved me and did not care for you." "I, jealous of you! You know very well that Senobia was not in love with any of us, and least of all with you. And you know yourself that you are lying, for at the moment I saw Senobia I ran to the gallery stairs. I had only one thought—to kill the gorilla, but as I passed the cage I saw it sitting in there."

"What is the good of calling one another liars," said the ringmaster. "It means that Stavarta must explain what he was doing in the gallery and how it happened that we saw a gorilla while Goble was in his cage."

"I will kill you for this!" screamed Stavarta.

"Easy, easy, Stavarta," said the ringmaster, and turned to me.

"Then you saw a gorilla, too? How do you explain that?"

"I believe I can explain. Follow me."

I walked up the stairs. The others and Stavarta followed. He turned paler with every step. At the top there were six little rooms. They were all open but one.

"Where is the key?" I asked. Nobody knew, but one of the men burst open the door with a kick.

Inside we found a long brown fur coat and a mask representing a gorilla. The fur was torn and the mask in tatters. Both had been torn off in a hurry. Close by were a pair of long-haired gloves and in one of the fingers of these we found a ring belonging to Stavarta.

Senobia did not die. She even recovered so as to be able to walk. She is my wife now.

Stavarta committed suicide in prison.

DEMENTTOWN

Some people are never satisfied. There's a man over in Whiteside county who has been married six times and he has the nerve to ask for a divorce so he can take another chance.

When a wild-eyed mutt, who is driving an automobile, just manages to miss the southwest part of your anatomy with his fender, you never stop to figure out the proper way to pronounce the word "chauffeur" because what you call him doesn't sound anything like that at all.

The average girl gets more happiness from marrying a mere man than from cherishing an ideal all her life.

A Dekalb man started a riot at home by appearing at home with a band of crepe around his hat. When his wife asked him why he was wearing it, he replied, "For your first husband. I'm sorry he died." The police answered the call sent in by the neighbors.

Our honest sympathy goes out to the women who are so fat that they can't get anything ready-made except an umbrella.

Taken at His Word.

Willie was struggling through the story in his reading lesson.

"It was not a sloop. It was a larger vessel. By the rig I judged her to be a-a-a-a-a."

The word was new to him. "Barque," supplied the teacher. Still Willie hesitated.

"Barque!" repeated the teacher, this time sharply.

Willie looked as though he had not heard aright. Then, with an apprehensive glance around the class, he shouted: "Bow-wow!"

Stopped His Paper.

I've stopped my paper, yes I have; I didn't like to do it.

But the editor he got too smart, and I allow he'll rue it.

I am the man who pays his debts And will not be insulted So when an editor gets smart I want to be consulted.

HEADACHY, COSTIVE BILIOUS, "CASCARETS"

Liver and bowels are clogged—Clean them tonight! Feel BULLY!

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

Mrs. Phil Woolever will display her Spring and Summer Millinery on Saturday.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! IF IT IS FALLING OR FULL OF DANDRUFF--25C DANDERINE.

Ladies! Men! Here's the quickest surest dandruff cure known Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application, your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy, and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

French Minister of Marine May Not Return.

Paris, March 20.—The principal development of the day in connection with the Calmette tragedy was the resignation of Ernest Monis from the ministry of marine. It is understood that his withdrawal from the cabinet will be permanent, and not temporary as was at first expected, whatever may be the finding of the investigating committee.

While some kind of a demonstration by the anti-republicans is certain to be attempted at the funeral of M. Calmette today, the police do not anticipate serious trouble. Nevertheless M. Hennon, the prefect of Paris; has made extensive preparations to preserve order. Mme. Caillaux, it is said, is beginning to show the effect of her imprisonment.

The Klips Banquet

From the Franklin Reporter: On Monday evening of this week, the Klio club gave their annual six o'clock "St. Patrick's Day" banquet. The hall was beautifully decorated, shamrock mingled with mossy fringe hung in festoons from ceiling to ceiling. The two rows of tables, the full length of Masonic hall, with six plates at each table, were indeed inviting in their trimmings of green and white, the candles with their mellow glow being appreciated by all.

No sooner were the guests seated at the tables, when the waiters in white, with shamrock aprons and green caps, appeared upon the scene and this is what they brought: Pad-dy's delight with sauce, Irish spuds, Emerald patties, slallahahs Erin Go Braugh salad, Blarney cream with bonbon a la St. Patrick, Bid-dy's delight, cup of "grane Tay." This menu at once sent your thoughts to your home on the old sod of Ireland, which a true son of the soil certainly reverences.

After the tables were cleared away, the guests were entertained with an interesting Irish contest, then a man just from Cork, with the I. O. U. system, auctioned off valuable prizes and every guest received a prize.

Only too soon the good nights were spoken and the guests returned to their little Ireland home across the sea, carrying with them fond memories of the delightful evening spent with the Klios.

Dixon Woman's Club

The regular club meeting of the Dixon Woman's club was held Saturday last at the hospitable home of Mrs. H. L. Fordham on Peoria avenue. The day was nearly perfect, so a goodly number of club members were out. Miss Irma Brown opened the program with a piano solo, "Woodland Echoes" by Nyman, and as an encore played "Chimes" by Armstrong.

Mrs. Emma Cropsey gave a delightful sketch of Sara Orne Jewett, the author. She was born in New England, in a typical New England home, her father being a country doctor.

As a child Sara Orne Jewett began writing and she has given to the public many short stories and a number of novels, portraying the quaint New Englander in his true likeness. With each character in her books or sketches you feel like they were old friends before you lay the work down. Mrs. Cropsey followed this delightful paper with a symposium of one of her books and also read "Decoration Day" a short sketch.

Mrs. Fordham served dainty refreshments and the guests enjoyed a delightful social hour.

Many at Dance.

A very large crowd attended the Everybody's Club dance at the Armory last evening, indicated that these parties will continue to grow in popularity, for all who attended expressed their pleasure at the manner in which the floor is working out. Excellent music was furnished by the Marquette orchestra of seven pieces.

A scramble lunch was served and sociability was the order of the evening. A gold watch charm with monogram was presented to Mr. Whitish with many expressions for his future happiness.

Farewell Party

Relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes, who have been residing west of Dixon, enjoyed a very pleasant social gathering last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes of 1820 W. First St.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill will make their future home in Oberon, N. Dak., Mr. Hill leaving with the car today, and Mrs. Rhodes and son Byron will follow shortly. They will remain with Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes till Mr. Hill gets located.

A very delightful evening was enjoyed and the guests made Mr. and Mrs. Hill the gift of three solid silver tablespoons and a gravy ladle to match.

Entertained at inner.

Mrs. James Dempsey entertained at dinner at the Manhattan restaurant, Miss Margaret Flannery of Amboy and Misses Helen Tague and Eleanor Fuestman of the Bee Hive.

The Bridge Club met this afternoon with Mrs. A. C. Gossman.

Farewell Party.

The members of the G. R. C. gave a farewell party to Miss Susan Kipler, who will leave soon for California, last evening at the home of Miss Ada Brink in North Dixon. Eighteen of her friends were present at the schamble supper and social session which followed and the young lady was the recipient of a number of pretty gifts which will help her remember her friends in Dixon when she arrives at her home in the west.

Baptist Choir.

The choir of the Baptist church will meet for rehearsal promptly at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening and Christian and Baptist church will meet at the church.

Taylor-Prestin.

Last evening in Sterling Miss Carolyn Taylor and Karl Prestin of Sterling were united in marriage, at the M. E. parsonage in Sterling, Rev. Harris performing the ceremony. The young couple were accompanied by a sister of the groom, Miss Helen Prestin. The wedding was a very quiet one. The bride is a daughter of A. E. Taylor of this city and has hosts of friends who united with those of Mr. Prestin in wishing them every happiness. For the present they will reside in this city.

Misses Keane & O'Malley will display their Spring and Summer Millinery on Friday and Saturday. 66 2

OUR GREETING TO LINCOLN TOURISTS.

When the young men's branch of the Citizens' Association completes its work of placing at both entrances of the Lincoln highway to Dixon the big welcome signs, travelers through here will note in Dixon a community that will stand out as one of progressive and hospitable spirit and a city that is wide awake.

These signs should be electrically lighted at night and should bear brief outlines of the most significant features of interest in Dixon. The population, number churches, schools, colleges, parks, hotels, theatres, railroads and garages, the names of the factories, the fact that it is the county seat and the headquarters of the I. N. U., is on Rock river, the miles of paving (if we have enough to brag of), the bank capital, the value of taxable property in the township, etc. The Rock River Assembly and Lowell park should receive special mention and the fact that we welcome the visits of the strangers within our gates should be emphasized.

These signs will have to be large and in prominent places where an unobstructed view can be gained for considerable distance, so that passersby can read as they ride along.

If we could only have a few miles of brick or concrete highway leading up to these signs on both sides, the nice things we will say on the boards would have a great force of sincerity in them.

The good will of the Lincoln highway traveler is well worth bidding for and we can rest assured that if we are to compare favorably with other cities along the route, we dare not go at it in a half-hearted manner. We want to make these travelers feel that we are glad they have come and want them to stay as long as they will. We want them to know when they get to Dixon that they have reached a city that is worth inspecting, not a four corners which holds no interest for them. Get them to stay at our fine hotels, partake of our excellent meals, enjoy the beautiful parks and matchless beauty of this immediate vicinity. Get them to visit Lowell and quaint, quiet Grand Detour. There are many treasures of delight for the idle pleasure seeker that we must point the way to. It will pay Dixon to take this little trouble.

NATION-WIDE PRIMARIES.

The Indiana democrats have declared for state-wide primaries for the nomination of all candidates. The time is coming when the President of the United States will be nominated at a nation-wide primary election, and it seems to us that then, and only then, will the masses of the people have a real and deciding voice in the selection of candidates who would guide the federal government.

The delegate method is apparently an attempt to secure nomination of the people's choice, but it gives too much power to a few who can rule the delegates for the latter are not legally, and do not even seem to consider themselves morally bound to vote as their constituents have instructed them.

THE STREET FLUSHER.

When the commissioners' paving street program for this summer has been carried out, more than ever will this city need a mechanical street flusher, for the greatest drawback to paved streets is the dust problem and only by keeping the bricks washed clean of dirt can the dust be eliminated properly. Sprinkling simply makes a slimy, slippery and dangerous thoroughfare.

The method of cleaning the streets with a fire hose was right when there were only a few blocks in the business section paved, but now that the paved streets are more numerous and run out into the residence section in all directions, a flusher is needed. The flusher is a wagon carrying a reservoir of water which is sluiced across pavements by a pressure brought by a gasoline engine on the wagon. A trip over all the city pavements twice a week would serve to keep them free from filth and dirt. As it is now the pavements outside the heart of the business section are being neglected and in some cases dirt was allowed to accumulate to such an extent that the pavements were hidden entirely and the smooth, clean effect that is their greatest advantage, was lost.

ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE.

Since the announcement that our car line is to be extended out Ottawa avenue in North Dixon and that that street is to be paved to the city limits, there has been considerable activity in real estate values in that particular part of the city. Prices are jumping and far-sighted investors are planning houses on lots that have heretofore been worthless as far as income was concerned. The coming of the state epileptic colony to Dixon will develop the eastern part of North Dixon in no inconsiderable degree and property owners in that section will be particularly benefited.

In fact property values all over Dixon are "looking up." The rehabilitation of the shoe factory has already shown its good effect in developing West Dixon, and the improvement will be more marked this summer. Paved streets reaching far out into the residence section will have a big part in improving all sections of the city that are tributary to them.

Friday
By WALT MASON

Of all fried days this is the best, for men who earnestly have toiled; it couldn't have a keener zest if it were poached or stewed or boiled. For now the week draws to its close, and we, who worked to gain the prize, look forward to the sweet repose the Sabbath brings to weary guys. Full soon the wages we have earned will come to us, the plunks, the rocks; and will those wages then be burned, or thrown at owls and chicken-hawks? Shall we go forth and blow the coins, to gather which we sprained our thumbs and dislocated backs and loins, and tore the halfsoles from our shoes? Ah, no! The passing years have brought some wisdom, and we're frugal now; each man will tiddle to his cot, and hand the bullion to the frau. On Friday, with reward in sight, the cheerful toiler turns his crank, and thinks of how, with sane delight, he'll place three dollars ($3) in the bank. The week grows old, 'twill soon be sped and we have rocks who for them chased; but those who paint the village red have nothing but a dark green taste.

Referee Duffy Calls Off La Crosse (Wis.) Fight.

La Crosse, Wis., March 20.—For the first time since the passage of the boxing law permitting ten round no decision fights an exhibition was called by the referee because of fouls and the gate receipts held pending action in the state boxing commission. Jack Redmond went six rounds with Pete Childs of Chicago. From the start both men claimed repeated fouls and disregarded orders of Referee Duffy to break clean. In the sixth Childs whipped over a mean left to the jaw on the break and Duffy stopped the bout.

ACCUSE MOTHER OF DEATHS

Chicago: Woman Believed to Have Turned on Gas in Home.

Chicago, March 20.—Stories of a quarrel between Mrs. Hilda Lindstrom and her husband, John, led the police to believe that the woman turned on the gas, which killed two of her children and made herself, her husband and baby unconscious. According to Mrs. Bertha Nelson, who lives in the flat above that in which the Lindstrom family lived, Mrs. Lindstrom had declared her husband was in the habit of becoming intoxicated and she was disgusted with life.

The baby was revived, and physicians believe he will recover. The parents were taken to the Chicago Union hospital, where detectives hope to gain a statement from them should they regain consciousness. The story may never be told, however, as the police physician, who tried to revive them with oxygen, said there was little chance of their recovery.

WOMAN DROWNS TWO BABES

Fearful of Disease, Mother Seeks to Help Husband.

Greenwich, Conn., March 20.—Believing that she had tuberculosis and would be a burden to her husband, Mrs. William Anthony, wife of a contractor, drowned her small son and daughter in a bathtub and then swallowed poison. She may recover.

Apples Taft's Fat Reducer. Minneapolis, Minn., March 20.—Ex-President Taft's loss of 75 pounds in weight since he left the White House was ascribed to eating six or eight apples a day, dieting and walking. The doorkeeper at the Taft suite in the Dyckman hotel made the disclosure.

Women Multiply Their Trouble.

The popularity of bridge has swept all records so far this season. Any prominent society dame gets an average of, say, one invitation per afternoon. This she could manage beautifully were the invitations for successive dates. But suppose they bunch themselves so that she gets a half dozen for the same afternoon? Society, through necessity, has evolved a novel plan to meet this. It is the substitute. By the operation of this plan, the much-rushed society woman is enabled to enjoy her afternoon of bridge at the house she chooses, secure in the knowledge that she is being represented by her proxies in five other homes. Bridge for bridge's sake has resulted, for the invasion of the proxy has done away with the social aspect to a marked degree. But the proxy player has come to stay, as she is a necessity in the strenuous life of the social swim.

Glimpse into the Future.

He was a young man—a candidate for an agricultural constituency—and he was sketching in glowing colors to the audience of rural voters the happy life the laborer would lead under an administration for the propagation of sweetness and light. "We have not yet three acres and a cow, but it will come. Old age pensions are still of the future, but they will come." Similarly every item of his comprehensive program was indorsed by the same cry. Then he went on to talk of prison reforms. "I have not yet personally," he said, "been inside a criminal lunatic asylum." Then there was a voice from the back of the hall: "But it will come."

Stung!

The automobilist, after several times losing his way, found himself on an unknown road, at midnight. Where he was he could not even guess. At length he came to what appeared to be a signpost. He fumbled in his pocket, and brought out his box of matches. Luckily there was one left.

Carefully and slowly he toiled up the signpost, and at the top struck the match to see what was written thereon. The flickering glare of the match showed these words: "Try Tinker's Tabules."

Joseph Bonaparte, who sought a refuge in our country after the close of the second war with England, lived for several weeks in the (then) country seat of the Post family, at what is now One Hundred and Twenty-third street, Manhattan. Before leaving the state of New York, he settled down on a large tract of land he had acquired in Jefferson county, where he took the unfortunate Annette Savage as his "American wife."

His Simple Plan.

"Well, yes," confessed honest Farmer Hornbeak, the while a grim grin wrinkled his weather-beaten countenance, "it's a good 'eal o' trouble, but the satisfaction I feel amply repays me for the extry work. Ye see, by degrees I'm sharpenin' up the top of every stump on the place and in the course o' time I hope to have matters so arranged that the hired man will find it fully as comfortable to stand up durin' the day as to sit down."

Price of a Distinction.

"Now, sir," said the persuasive philanthropist, "we want you to be the chairman of the big meeting which we are to hold." "How much?" inquired Mr. Cassius Chex, wearily. "I don't quite follow you."

"How much is the deficit that you expect my subscription to meet?"

WILSON HOPES FOR PARLEY RENEWAL

Lind and Rojas Meet, But Nothing of Importance
Was Discussed.

HINTS AT MEXICAN WAR

Representative Hulling Argues for Quick Action—Battle at Tampico
Is Reported by Passengers on Steamer.

Vera Cruz, March 20.—The day's developments seem to show that the visit here of Senor Jose Pope Portillo y Rojas, minister of foreign affairs in Huerta's cabinet, was for the purpose of spending his name day (St. Joseph's day) quietly, and not to reopen negotiations with John Lind, President Wilson's special representative in Mexico, as was reported. The gravity of the financial situation was said to have prompted Huerta to send his foreign minister to confer unofficially with Mr. Lind. Rojas did not call on Mr. Lind, but the two met at the home of a mutual friend. They conferred for two hours, but Mr. Lind intimated that the conference was of no great importance.

U. S. Favors Plan for Peace.
Washington, March 20.—The United States will welcome a reopening of negotiations with the Huerta government or the constitutionalists and be glad to consider any proposal that will tend to draw the various Mexican factions together in a plan for the restoration of peace.

This was the attitude of President Wilson as revealed after the arrival of reports saying Senor Portillo y Rojas, foreign minister in the Huerta cabinet, had gone to Vera Cruz to meet John Lind, Mr. Wilson's personal representative, to seek a resumption of peace parleys.

Senor Rojas has been mentioned as the man who would succeed Huerta if he retired. The object of the visit to Mr. Lind, it has been reported, was to acquaint the president's envoy with his personality.

Wilson Backs No Aspirant.
Incidentally the president in talking with callers, while remarking that he had had no official report of any new parleys, spoke in complimentary terms of the Mexican minister of foreign affairs as a man of high character.

What the president emphasized in his informal discussions on the Mexican situation was that he, as president of the United States, never sought to approve or disapprove of individuals who might aspire to the presidency of Mexico and that he had no list of men whom he held under so-called ban because of alleged complicity in the assassination of Madero.

Likewise, in the consideration of individuals who might seek the recognition by the United States, the principle President Wilson had been working on was that recognition extended to anyone set up in the presidency without some popular expression or without the indorsement of all factions could not lead to peace.

Talks of Forcing Peace.
"War with Mexico means a war of exhaustion; the moment our troops pass the frontier the Mexicans will drop their quarrel and make common cause against the hated gringos," said Representative Hulling of Pennsylvania, in the house.

"I believe the time must come, if it has not already arrived," he added, "when it will be the imperative duty of this government to announce to the world that present conditions in Mexico must cease and that unless by a given time the Mexicans themselves shall have made pacific arrangements and cease hostilities, the United States, in the interest of humanity, will undertake to restore peace and good order."

Rebels Take State Capital.
City of Mexico, March 20.—Chilpancingo, capital of Guerrero, is reported to be in the hands of the rebels. Officially this report is denied.

The American charge d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, is confined to bed with an attack of sciatica.

Report Tampico Attacked.

Port Arthur, Tex., March 20.—Passengers arriving on the steamship Trinidadian from Mexico waters said that Mexican rebels began an attack on Tampico Monday. They said the water supply station was blown up.

BRYAN NOW FIFTY-FOUR

Celebration Held in His Honor at Washington.

Lincoln, Neb., March 20.—Praise for President Wilson and Secretary Bryan in nearly equal measure was the dominating note in the addresses at the annual banquet on the occasion of the fifty-fourth anniversary of Mr. Bryan's birth. Detained at Washington by press of official business, Mr. Bryan sent a letter to be read, in which he said he could look with satisfaction over the accomplishments of the first quarter of the present Democratic administration.

Literacy Test Is Kept.
Washington, March 20.—The Burnett immigration bill was reported favorably to the senate. It retains the literacy test. Some officials believe President Wilson may veto it on that account.

POET AND THE INGENUE

By C. WENGLER.

She had come into the hotel grill room with her chaperon. He was dining with a young friend. Eyes were drawn to eyes, and during the long dinner neither saw but one face in that crowded room.

She saw the head of a god, hair tinged with gray, delicate poetic hands, a sensitive mouth and eyes that looked a world of sorrow and understanding. He was a man, old, soul-seared, satisfied. But the girl was too young in life to read signposts.

He saw a young girl with innocent blue eyes, a full, rosy mouth that suggested kisses, cheeks red with a redness that has recently come from the country. She was fresh, full of light and laughter, curiosity and expectation. The man read her with the understanding of the expert in human nature.

When she passed from the grill room her eyes went to his and she smiled as a child smiles at some new and as yet unencountered pleasure. And he looked after her as a connoisseur in human weaknesses who has chanced upon a new toy.

Such was their meeting. The young girl spoke to her chaperon about the man with the godlike head. The chaperon told her that she must never mention his name, that she must not know that sort of a man.

The next morning the girl came into the chaperon's rooms noiselessly. The chaperon was at the telephone.

"Oh, splendid, Jack! I've wanted to meet Owen Marsh ever since I read that exquisite poem of his, 'The Lovers of Lara.' Bring him to tea at four and I'll ask some congenial people. Until four, good-by!"

The girl slipped out of the rooms as quietly as she had come in. She couldn't bear to meet the eyes of her chaperon just then. Owen Marsh was the man with the godlike head!

A little later she returned to her chaperon, to await announcement of the afternoon tea. None came. Instead, that gracious lady turned to her:

"Child, Madam Manette telephoned that she would like you to take your lesson at four today, instead of two. Estelle will call for you at five and take you for a chocolate."

The girl made no reply. Her mind was in a whirl. But about 5:30 that afternoon, as Owen Marsh was whispering insinuatingly into the chaperon's delicate pink ear, a slip of a girl entered the rooms. She walked directly to her chaperon, but without looking at her. Her eyes were on the man with the godlike head.

The chaperon forgot herself. "I thought you were driving in the park," she said stonily.

"Estelle told me you were having a tea," still looking straight at the face that had so thrilled her, "and I didn't want to miss him."

The girl dropped into the chair at the elbow of the man with the wonderful face. And there was nothing for the chaperon to do but—introduce them.

Some one called her away then, and the man and the girl were left alone. In all that roomful of people neither saw any other. It seemed to each that they had waited long for this moment. They made the most of it.

"They couldn't keep us apart," the girl said.

"I have known you always," said the man.

"I love you," said the girl.

"I've always loved you," said the man.

And then some one intruded, some one that could not be escaped.

"I'll meet you under the roses in the corridor," whispered the man.

Before the guests had all taken their leave the girl slipped away. When the man left the chaperon's room he found the girl—waiting—under the roses. He lifted her into the taxi and they drove far out into the country to a little inn, where a room always "waited" for the man.

He named her the Blush of Dawn and called himself the Valley of the Shadow. He was a poet; she was an ingenue. One night of inspiration was his. A night that shattered every illusion was hers. Then he told her that in the Valley of the Shadow men live alone. He went back to his lair with one more sensation living his sluggish blood. It was on such moments that he lived.

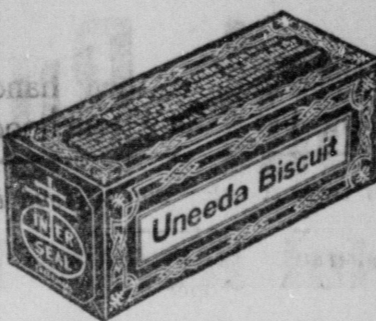

She went into the street for the chaperon was a foolish woman; she closed the door against her. It was for this that the girl had grown up over night.

The man boasted of his conquest. He was a poet. Some men turned their backs upon him. Others took up the scent laid bare. Women read the poem the girl had inspired, and asked the poet to dinner. The chaperon sent him a silly note, swearing undying devotion. The girl's aunt invited him to give lectures on Bjornsen and Ibsen in her home of mornings.

But the girl—ah, the girl—why ask?

PRISON GOODS QUIZ UP

Senate Body to Probe Charge
Fund Was Raised.

Efforts to Defeat Hughes Regulation
B/M With $50,000 Made Subject of Inquiry.

Washington, March 20.—Charges that a fund of $50,000 had been raised in the interest of prison contractors to defeat the Hughes bill to regulate and restrict the interstate transportation of convict-made goods will be investigated by the senate lobby committee.

While hearings on the Hughes bill were in progress before the interstate commerce committee, Senator Overman was informed by Senator Hughes that statements had been circulated to the effect that a financial campaign against the measure was in progress.

It was said that a $50,000 fund to fight the bill had been raised following the introduction of the measure last summer.

Two subpoenas were issued by Senator Overman's order. One was for Edward Boyle, a Chicago attorney, former treasurer of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, who also has represented in the capacity of counsel prison contracting firms.

Boyle is now in Washington and has attended the hearings on the Hughes bill.

Dr. E. Stagg Whitten of New York, an instructor at Columbia university, secretary of the New York prison reform commission and chairman of the national conference on prison labor, who is a staunch supporter of the Hughes bill, also has been summoned.

Hearing on Petition to Dissolve
Quaker Oats Co. Open at Chicago.

Chicago, March 20.—Testimony relating to restraint of trade in the oatmeal business was presented at the opening hearing in the government's anti-trust suit to dissolve the Quaker Oats company, the alleged oatmeal trust. The hearing was held in the federal building before Miss Kate S. Holmes, a special examiner appointed by Judge Carpenter. Monopoly of the oatmeal business of the country since 1890 is charged by the government. The suit, it is understood, is an outgrowth of the absorption in 1911 by the Quaker Oats company of the Great Western Cereal company. This absorption, according to the government, was illegal and against the interests of the minority stockholders of the Great Western company.

TAKE SODA IF FOOD SOURS IN ACID STOMACH

A well known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. When we get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to get a package of 10 grain Sodagen tablets from any pharmacy and swallow one tablet anytime followed by a tumbler of water which instantly neutralizes these acids; stops food fermentation, absorbs gases and sweetens the entire digestive system.

This suggestion should prove valuable to stomach sufferers here who can trace their indigestion to acidity. A local druggist is the authority that these tablets are entirely harmless being composed of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. S. P.

MRS. WILSON IS BETTER

President's Wife on Road to Recovery.

Washington, March 20.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is well on the road to complete recovery from the effects of a fall over a rug on the White House floor. Officials at the executive offices said her injury was an external one of no seriousness and that she would be out again attending to social engagements in a day or two.

They said she had undergone a slight operation to correct the effects of the bruise which resulted from her fall, but asserted it was a local one.

SELECT STATE TICKET

Indiana Democrats Approve Primary Law.

Senator Shively is Renominated by Convention—National Administration is Praised.

Indianapolis, March 20.—A complete state ticket, excepting candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, but including a candidate for United States senator, was nominated, and a platform which declared in favor of a state-wide direct primary law was adopted by the Democrats of Indiana in state convention here.

All nominations with the exception of the candidates for treasurer of state and attorney general were chosen on the first ballot. It required eight ballots, occupying more than five hours, to select George A. Bittler of Fort Wayne as the nominee for treasurer, and two ballots to select Richard M.
Milburn of Jasper as the party's choice for attorney general. There were seven candidates for the nomination of treasurer of state.

The platform, which was the cause of a heated all-night session of the resolution committee, was adopted without debate by the convention.

Besides declaring for the state-wide primary law, which was endorsed by President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan in letters to United States Senator John W. Kern, it pledged the party to work for an arbitration law similar to the Erdman act, endorsed the administration of President Wilson and Governor Ralston, urged flood prevention measures and good roads legislation.

United States Senator Benjamin F.
Shively was renominated by acclamation, as he was not opposed.

The candidates nominated are:
United States senator—Benjamin F.
Shively.

Judge Supreme Court—Frank M.
Powers.

Judges Appellate Court—Joseph
Ibach, F. S. Caldwell, Edward W. Telf,
Milton B. Hottel.

Secretary of State—Homer L. Cook.
Treasurer—George A. Bittler.

Attorney General—Richard M. Milburn.

Auditor—Dale Crittendenberger.
Superintendent Public Instruction—
C. A. Greathouse.

High tribute was paid to the national administration, President Wilson, Vice-President Marshall and Secretary Bryan in the platform.
